MEMORANDUM FOR GENERAL SMITH

1. The language of your memorandum dated 9 July 1952 on the subject of "Protection of Sources and Dissemination of Information" (copy attached) is broad enough to include a number of cases of technical "source disclosure" which are not believed to be within the spirit of the Directive.
2. AD/C has listed each of these types of technical source disclosures in the attached memoranda, the first of which deals with instances arising from the fact that [redacted] acts as a service of common concern and the second of which deals with all other such instances.
3. It is believed that none of the instances listed in these memoranda contravene the spirit of DCI's Directive on source disclosure. However, in view of the unequivocal language of the Directive and the express provision therein that no disclosure be made without express authority from DCI, if he is present in the Agency, approval is requested for the following recommendation:

RECOMMENDED

4. That authority be given to continue action of the types specified in the attached memoranda, upon the ground that such action is not source disclosure within the approved meaning of the DCI Directive dated 9 July 1952.
